

Sunburst Times, 3 & 4/2007:

Recently Completed:

- UCLA Oral History Program archived (from analog tape to CD) a number of interviews including legendary Jazz pianist and composer Horace Tapscott.
- Southbay band, The Forgotten Prophecy, completed its debut self-titled CD. Released through Myspace (www.myspace.com/tfp123), the band consists of Brandon Greenwald (Lead Vocals, Keyboards, Rhythm Guitar), Tristan Koester (Lead Guitar), Cole Deforest (Drums), and "J" (Bass Guitar).

In Production:

- Cesar Millan (The Dog Whisperer on The National Geographic Channel) has been recording narration for his new audio book, an abridged version of Be The Pack Leader. The project produced by Bob Walter for Random House will be released this October.
- Al Timss is finishing up Latvian language versions of his CD Last Call. Produced by JoAnne Kurman, this additional release of the project is scheduled for Fall, 2007 release.

Other News:

- A second Drawmer DS 201 noise gate has been added to the control room. The unit is a two channel version of the Drawmer frequency sensitive line of gates.
- Congratulations to recent open mic winners: Peter Kosenko from McCabes Guitar Shop and Shiela Stone from Boulevard Music. They will each receive two hours of free recording time at Sunburst as part of our ongoing monthly sponsorships at each venue.
